

The ONE and Only All-in-ONE Channel Management Platform

The channel has changed — and the channel technology (ChanTech) stack has exploded. B2B organizations are bogged down trying to recruit, manage and enable partners to sell on their behalf. They are also struggling to integrate and manage the multiple disconnected solutions and even home-grown software tied to their channel programs. There's a system for managing partner relationships. One for following leads and customer activities. Yet another for managing channel marketing. Still more for tracking Marketing Development Funds, Learning Management and Certifications. The list goes on and on.

Suppliers lose time and money struggling with endless integrations and lack of visibility. No one can figure out which system to use, data gets scattered and partners disengage — and customers get lost in the shuffle. ZiftONE puts an end to this madness — and puts your channel program out in front of partners, customers and competitors — with just ONE platform.

GET IT TOGETHER WITH ZIFTONE

Finally, there is ONE platform you can use to build, manage and set your program apart from the rest. ZiftONE bridges the growing gap between supplier expectations and partner performance. No more cluttered pipelines, limited communications or lack of visibility created by disparate software solutions. Instead, ZiftONE pulls everything you need for channel sales, channel marketing and channel operations together in ONE seamless and purpose-built platform, engineered by channel experts.

POWER YOUR BUSINESS WITH AN EMPOWERED CHANNEL

ZiftONE is the only solution you need for Enterprise Channel Management. ONE platform connects Channel Leaders, Partners, and Customers to accelerate business growth and performance.

"ZiftONE delivers deeper insight, so we can see and report on unfolding trends, manage our business performance metrics — and make it even easier for our partners to build predictable pipeline and profitable, long-term customer relationships that drive mutual value."
